

ENGLISH SERIES

InstaScram	A socially-networked local travel programme that brings our presenter to “Instagram-worthy” and historical/heritage locations around Singapore. The inspiration for these locations come from Instagram users, and the content will be seeded back into the local Instagram community by crediting idea contributors, as well as being distributed on various social networks.
ST Sessions	A music programme featuring interviews and intimate live performances with local musicians, both established and emerging. International and regional acts will also be curated to appear in at least two shows per season.
Heroes Among Us	Inspiring stories about young Singaporeans who have been tested by hardship and have come up on top. This web-series also showcases youth with talent, those who are different, or those who pursue their convictions.
AskST	Produced in conjunction with ST's Ask ST reader engagement initiative, this series brings the newsroom's seasoned writers in front of the camera to answer readers' questions on health, finance, cars and more.
Bridget's Adventures	Join journalist Bridget Tan as she tries out the craziest activities Singaporeans participate in, and if they're not crazy enough, she'll up the ante and take on challenges issued.
Living City	A series featuring some of Singapore's overlooked spaces. The series will feature interviews with long-time residents, business vendors and frequent-visitors of the place. The story will include the history and facts of the living space, and is essentially a short documentary that weaves human stories with the story of the places people dwell in. Locations chosen to be featured need to hold some importance to the collective Singaporean memory and could include those at risk of being demolished or reacquired by the Government.

MANDARIN SERIES*

The Newsmaker (封面人物)	The series locates past newsmakers and aims to understand how their lives have changed since they have made headline news. Through the series, audiences would also be taken on a journey to revisit major Singapore-related news milestones that these newsmakers were a part of.
Why It Matters (关我什么事)	A video animation series explaining major global issues through infographics and illustrations, providing insights into why these issues are relevant in the Singapore context. The series serves both local and overseas Singaporeans with the objective of keeping them well-informed and encourages them to be more outward-looking at the same time.
A Little Somebody (我是小某某)	The programme sets out to promote the spirit of learning by featuring young teens aged 7 to 12 who are already particularly good in a specific area or who display exceptional passion for an interest in which he/she outperforms his/her peers.
Live Your Dream (完成一个梦)	The programme aims to promote a positive outlook in life by assisting individuals to achieve a personal dream such as picking up a skill, executing a task or finding a long-lost someone.

Some programmes may be screened on Starhub's Hub E City Channel (Ch 111/825).*
