

Digital Tech for Sustainability – In Building Management

This Playbook is a starting point for Built Environment SMEs in the business of building management & operations to understand how digital technologies can help manage the environmental impacts of their work and achieve sustainable business growth

Did you know:

The Built Environment sector accounts for over 20% of Singapore's carbon emissions

Make sense of sustainability for building management and the growing demand for sustainability practices

How to leverage IoT, data analytics, and automation solutions to track and optimise energy/water resources for better business sustainability

Learn about how the use of digital tech for sustainability can lead to cost savings, manpower efficiency, green financing opportunities and better brand standing

Click here to start your sustainability journey

INFOCOMM MEDIA
DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

edem strategy institute