

BUILD AMAZING STARTUPS HERE (BASH) FACTSHEET

Initiated by Infocomm Investments Pte Ltd (I IPL), BASH (Build Amazing Startups Here) is a new facility that aims to be an epicentre for innovation and tech startups. The new space will gather all stakeholders of the tech startup community, from accelerators, investors, incubators to entrepreneurs, all under one roof.

Located within Block 79 of Singapore's start-up hotbed JTC LaunchPad @ one-north, BASH covers more than 25,000 square feet and is the largest integrated tech startup space in Singapore. It houses supporting facilities such as an audio/video studio, a prototyping laboratory, and ample event space.

BASH is divided into five sections: Brewery, Hatchery, Factory, Chill and Mission Control.

- Brewery is an event area that supports community building activities that can drive vibrancy in the start-up scene;
- Hatchery is designed to support I IPL's accelerator programmes. Multiple programmes can run concurrently. While undergoing acceleration, startups can develop and fine-tune their product-market fit in preparation for fund raising;
- Factory is an area meant for startups that have graduated from accelerator programmes to continue staying with us a while longer to further develop their products or gain market traction, while continuing to receive guidance;
- Chill, as the word suggests, is meant for our startups and ecosystem partners to meet and mingle; and
- Mission Control houses I IPL operations and core infrastructure supporting BASH.

BASH has the capability to grow a strong pipeline of promising Singapore-based tech product startups by providing support across the entire value chain - from ideation, acceleration, incubation to expansion. It can hold up to 80 start-up teams at one time.

Europe's leading accelerator focused on financial innovation, Startupbootcamp Fintech and local start-up Glints that helps young people in their career discovery and development process are the earliest occupants of BASH.