INNOVFEST UNBOUND

“Over the last several years, we organised InnovFest to help local tech start-ups and innovators make the right connections. Last year, we collaborated with unBound Media to co-organise InnovFest unBound, and maximise its impact by bringing it to a global level. This year, we are delighted to further raise the profile of this flagship event by partnering Infocomm Development Authority to position InnovFest unBound 2016 as one of the pillar events of Smart Nation Innovations Week. This will showcase Singapore as a dynamic technology and innovation ecosystem, where cutting edge research leads to new applications and innovative start-ups can build disruptive solutions.”

BIG BANG DATA EXHIBITION

“Designed for the audiences of the 21st century, Big Bang Data is a show that explores the phenomenon of the information explosion that we are currently experiencing. The exhibition enables us to visualise and quantify the endless oceans of data generated through the work of artists, designers, technologists, scientists, journalists and filmmakers. We are privileged to present Big Bang Data as part of the Smart Nation Innovations Week, which provides us with the platform to participate in conversations around the datafication of our world through the unique framework of artistic interventions.”
