

National broadband policy should welcome increase competitions for the benefit of the people and not for certain parties to gain benefit and increase profit over others. Information age is where everyone deserve affordable high speed access. When will we have broadband speed like Korea if we allow such "monopoly" in telco industry here?

<http://www.itif.org/files/BroadbandCompetition.pdf>

F.T. Ling