

TOUCH Community Services affirms IMDA's efforts to review and enhance the existing Films Act.

In particular, TOUCH supports the proposed key amendments in the following two areas:

- Formalisation of the Co-Classification Scheme
- Introduction of Video Games Class Licence.

With the proliferation and adoption of technology and digital media, members of the public including children have easier access to wide-ranging content, some of which may negatively influence minors or are not reflective of societal norms and values. The proposed amendments signals the importance of safe-guarding our young from inappropriate content and helping people make informed decisions.
