

MADE TO CROSS BORDERS

WHERE STORIES ARE MADE FOR GLOBAL SCREENS

Great stories deserve the right support to reach the world.

Powering Singapore's media landscape, the Infocomm Media Development Authority (IMDA) actively connects storytellers with the partners, resources, and expertise to bring stories to global audiences.

From world-class production reliability and strategic support to deep industry expertise, we shape stories from script to screen to sale - working alongside award-winning local creatives and globally connected partners.

Built on Singapore's infrastructure, talent, and partnerships, your ideas don't just come to life. They travel, resonate, and find audiences everywhere.

Ready to make it happen? So are we.

A COLLABORATION THAT ACTUALLY WORKS

From Singapore's connected media hub, your stories can reach audiences across cultures and continents.

BUILT FOR GLOBAL REACH

Singapore's cultural authenticity strengthens storytelling, enabling films and TV series to connect deeply with international audiences while staying true to their identity.

PRODUCTION YOU CAN TRUST

From structured milestone funding and seasoned creative teams to advanced production infrastructure, Singapore enables projects at every stage of the production journey.

PROVEN IMPACT

With award-winning creatives, globally connected networks, and proven production success, your stories travel further, resonate deeper, and make an impact worldwide.

THE VIOLINIST

Set across eight decades of Southeast Asian history - from colonial Singapore to the Japanese Occupation and independence - The Violinist follows childhood friends Kai and Fei, bound by music and fate. Kai sacrifices his gift to fight, while Fei devotes herself to her art, hoping her music will reunite them. A haunting sonata becomes the thread connecting their souls through time, memory, and redemption. Hand-drawn and deeply emotional, the series blends sweeping history with an intimate story of love, loss, and music's enduring power.

AMOEBA

In Singapore, school dropout Choo (16) returns to her elite all-girls Chinese school and attracts the admiration of three fellow misfits - Vanessa, Gina, and Sofia - after small acts of rebellion. Confiding about the ghost in her room, the four decide to document it with Sofia's camcorder. Inspired by Sofia's family driver Uncle Phoon (70) and his stories of triad gangs in colonial Singapore, they form their own gang - but how do you pull that off in modern Singapore, where even chewing gum is illegal?

A BANQUET FOR HUNGRY GHOSTS

In a haunted restaurant beyond time, a ghostly Spirit Chef prepares four iconic Chinese dishes, each tied to chilling tales of betrayal, sacrifice, and ancestral sin. From 1920s Guangdong to modern Singapore, post-massacre Jakarta to coastal Taiwan, each ghost story reveals buried guilt and unspoken grief. As the dead take their place at the Banquet Table, a darker ritual stirs. Inspired by Ying Chang Compestine's book, A Banquet for Hungry Ghosts.
