

Open-source risk management solution with comprehensive application security

Swiftly and accurately identifies security and legal risks of software dependencies

Solutions to ensure continuous security

Extensive research helps business manage security & license compliance risks during development

Minimises risks without need for security expertise

Helps customers minimise risks through automation of open-source security management

Scans & remediates vulnerabilities

In real time, with no compromise on productivity

Dedicated team, builds trust

With employees, partners, investors & customers to solve software development complexities