FUTURE BROS

Future Bros is a fun, high-concept comedy that follows the life of 8-year-old boy genius Andy who finds himself stuck with his time-travelling 13-year-old self (who now goes by AJ). Andy is sorely disappointed in what the teenage AJ has become and is determined to change him! While Andy is a self-motivated, energetic genius determined to leave his mark on the world, his older self, AJ, is more interested in chilling out and no longer cares for science. These two boys can't help but get sucked into each other's lives and (mis)adventures!

UNICORNS VS LLAMAS

Within a beautiful, enclosed valley - Sparkle Valley - the UNICORNS and the LLAMAS lived peacefully side by side for a dozen generations. Until one day when a sharp conversation turned into an argument...which became a beef...which begat a feud...and which settled into a full-on war! A "scheme of the week" show as Sparkle Valley has been turned into a tribal battleground. Rainbows and glitter have been replaced by battle scars and bad teeth, but no one really remembers how or why it all began! The unicorns use magic derived by filling a little of their horn while the Llamas are mad-scientist builders.

DOCUMENTARY

EVOLVE

EVOLVE tells the enthralling, visually spectacular stories of some of the most astonishingly superpowered species on the planet. The series investigates how their unique adaptations evolved over the course of millions of years. And it ultimately explores how they could potentially revolutionize humanity's future by inspiring new technologies. Each episode is centered on a different aspect of society in need of an upgrade — covering themes ranging from healthcare to exploration to conservation. The series features jaw-dropping natural history sequences demonstrating how animals around the globe have evolved extraordinary adaptations beyond our current technologies. And it embarks on a host-driven adventure to the forefront of human ingenuity—joining forces with engineers, doctors, scientists, and inventors for exclusive, on-camera reveals of startling new wild-inspired innovations.

THE RAINCOAT KILLER: CHASING A PREDATOR IN KOREA

The Raincoat Killer: Chasing A Predator In Korea is a three-part docuseries that follows Yoo Young Chul, a notorious serial killer who came to light as a psychopath to the South Korean public in 2004. Targeting wealthy elderly people, young women and sex workers, Yoo killed a total of 20 people in various parts of Seoul. As Netflix's first Korean true crime offering, the docuseries will examine the horrific chain of events through never-before-seen archival footage and powerful interviews with the people directly involved in the case, including the victims' family members; the officer in charge of the case; other detectives and investigators, prosecutors; lawyers; and profilers Lee Soo-Jung, Bae Sang-Hoon, and Kwon Il-Yong, South Korea's first criminal profiler who interacted directly with Yoo.

SISTERS OF THE NIGHT

Two young women, one escaping the abject poverty of Japan and another running away from her life of oppressive luxury, found their lives inextricably intertwined when they are deceived and sold to the same brothel. As with the first season of Last Madame, the goal is to not only tell the stories of women in Singapore's history but to bring the characters and their plight to life through thorough research into the details of life lived then and through evocative imagery and cinematography.
