

MOVING HOUSE
Short Film
Information Sheet

Main Information

Synopsis:

A family loses their family burial ground to urban development in land scarce Singapore. In a world governed by the rhetoric of progress, the phrase "rest in peace" has a time limit.

MOVING HOUSE is the first documentary commissioned by Discovery Channel to be entirely conceptualised, initiated and directed by a Singaporean.

Year: 2002
Format: 16mm
Running Time: 22 min
Genre: Documentary
Rating: PG
Language(s): English

Awards Won:

- Best Documentary, Student Academy Award
- Discovery Channel's Asia First Time Filmmaker Award 2001
- Certificate of Merit, Chicago International Film Festival
- Nextframe, Documentary Prize
- USA-ASEAN Best Documentary Award

In Competition:

- Finalist, David L. Wolper Student Achievement Award, International Documentary Association
- Finalist, Golden Reel Award, Los Angeles Asian Pacific Film and Video Award

Official Screening:

- Kodak Emerging Filmmakers' Showcase, Cannes International Film Festival 2003
- Australian International Documentary Conference
- Discovery Channel Asian & Australian Broadcast
- Bangkok Short Film and Video Festival
- International Film and Video Awards, Hong Kong
- Philadelphia International Film Festival
- Commonwealth Film Festival
- Malaysian Video Awards
- Asian Film Symposium, Singapore

Cast/Crew

Producer(s): Discovery Networks Asia

Director(s): Tan Pin Pin
Writer(s): Tan Pin Pin
Cinematographer: Jackie Ong, Ho Choon Hiong & Lucas Jodogne

Contact

Enquiries: Ms Tan Pin Pin
Email: pptan@northwestern.edu

