Information Sheet

Logline:

A man decides to give up his head for a fanciful one in the name of self-improvement.

Synopsis:

A man, dissatisfied with a white cube for a head, decides to give it up immediately for a fanciful one in the name of self-improvement, only to find himself unwillingly dealing with the consequence. Using stop-motion animation, this short tale brings across the message that while change is easy, changing back is harder.
