1	Asian Film Archive (AFA)	The Asian Film Archive (AFA) was founded in January 2005 as a non-profit organisation dedicated to preserving the rich film heritage of Singapore and Asian cinema, encouraging scholarly research on film, and promoting a wider critical appreciation of the art form. It is internationally recognised in the community, holding memberships with the International Federation of Film Archives (FIAPF), the Southeast Asia-Pacific Audiovisual Archive Association (SEAPAVAA), and the Association of Moving Image Archivists (AMIA). AFA aspires to be a hub for the Asian film community, contributing to culture, scholarship, and industry through screenings, educational programmes, and cultural initiatives that open and enrich intellectual, educational, and creative spaces.	https://asianfilmarchive.org/
2	Singapore International Film Festival (SGIFF)	Founded in 1987, the Singapore International Film Festival (SGIFF) is the largest and longest-running film event in Singapore. As an illustrious cornerstone in the local arts calendar, the Festival is known for its dynamic programming and focus on groundbreaking Asian cinema for Singapore and the region. Beyond its annual Festival programme, SGIFF is also dedicated to nurturing and championing local and regional talent through its industry-led SGIFF Pro platform. SGIFF Pro brings together the festival's various industry initiatives, such as the Asian Producers Network and the SGIFF Industry Days conference event, under one umbrella to meet the evolving and complex demands of the film	www.sgiff.com industry. The SGIFF is organised by the Singapore International Film Festival Ltd.

3	Sinema	Sinema is a Singapore-based film and media initiative established in 2006, originally as an online platform to collate information and news on Singapore's independent filmmaking scene. Its mission is to advocate for the creation and consumption of local stories, support filmmaking talents, and encourage cross-cultural awareness and understanding through the medium of film. Sinema develops and manages industry programmes — including the ciNE65 short film competition and the National Youth Film Awards — as well as collaborations with literary and media festivals. It also provides consultancy, project management, and talent development support for Singapore's film and media ecosystem.	https://www.sinema.sg/
4	Objectifs – Centre for Photography and Film	Objectifs – Centre for Photography and Film is a Singapore-based non-profit arts organisation founded in 2003, dedicated to nurturing original voices in visual storytelling and broadening public engagement through the power of images. Through exhibitions, screenings, workshops, talks, mentorship programmes, and residencies, Objectifs fosters dialogue about visual culture and advances the practice and appreciation of photography and film.	http://www.objectifs.com.sg/
